EARLY PEACE IN MINE WAR PREDICTED

AT LAST! COPS WILL PROTECT MEN

Chicago starts war on "Boulevard Vamp," cause of much trouble in handling traffic.

CHICAGO.—(United Press.)
—A concerted drive on the "boulevard" vamp — most deadly of the female species—was ordered today by Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris.
"A vamp on the sidewalk is worse than two in the lon-
neau," Policewoman Mary Ready declared as she prepared to stalk the wary females.
War on the sidewalk flappers
was ordered when police learned that Michigan Boulvard was becoming fraught with danger for Chicago's unprotected males.
"If they'd only vamp the guy
on foot, instead of the Adams
at the wheel, it wouldn't be so bad," Policewoman Ready, the chief vamp detector, said.
"They insist on decoying

some handsome young man
just as the traffic cop signals
'go'.
"Result, a jam, a busted fender, probably harsh words,
police court and a fine for the male.
"And of course it was the chic little thing with the naughty smile that was to blame.
"It's really not safe for a man with an eye for women to drive down Michigan Boulvard. The vamps are out in scores and if they don't land him at one corner, they will at the next."
The first skirmish with the vamps netted six—mostly giving the professionals of models and mannequins. They were charged with disorderly conduct.

TROOPS ARE SENT TO OHIO MINES

Davis Orders Out Two Cavalry
Units for Emergency

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press)
—Movement of two troops of national guard cavalry from Cincinnati to Pomeroy today under orders of Governor Davis places milita-men in three strategic centers in Ohio coal fields, ready for instant dispatch to scenes of possible disorder within their districts in connection with the coal strike.
Two other cavalry troops, one at Cleveland and the other at Columbus were ordered mobilized in their armories.

In a statement Governor Davis declared his "action was in furtherance of the state's precautionary attitude, that troops be available for possible immediate emergency service in different sections of the state where the conditions might demand it."

The governor stated that still further mobilization might be deemed necessary.
The two Cincinnati units enroute to Pomeroy are Troop C, 107th cavalry, commanded by Captain Samuel Richmond and headquarters squadron of the 54th brigade commanded by Captain Cameron H.
Sanders
Troop B, of the 107th cavalry,
Columbus, commanded by Captain
Ranuncius W. Knauss and Troop A, 107th cavalry, Cleveland, in command of Captain Ralph Perkins, were directed mobilized for service.

CINCINNATI.—(Associated Press)—Following the order of Governor Harry L. Davis, members of Troop C, 107th cavalry and headquarters squadron of the 54th brigade, with medical detachment quickly gathered at the Heintz armory,
and while Captain Cameron H.
Sanders and Captain Samuel Richmond were busily engaged in mobilizing their units, further orders were received directing them to proceed at once to the Pomeroy coal fields.

A large crowd recalling scenes of war days, gathered at the armory
where the troopers were hastily collecting their equipment for the early leave taking.
The orders were for concentration
at the Pomeroy coal fields in Meigsco for patrol and emergency duty.
The contingent, numbering about 125 men left the armory at 12:30 o'clock this morning and enroute
at the Pennsylvania station, leaving shortly afterwards.

BOY IS KIDNAPED

Son of Wealthy Mine Operator Believed Traced.

STUBBENVILLE.—(United Press.)—County authorities today claimed to have definite information showing that Ralph, the 18-year-old son of Oliver Monaco, wealthy mine operator of Adena,
was kidnapped.
The boy disappeared last Saturday after drawing $1,000 from his account in an Adena bank.
The father told police he had received several "black hand" letters previous to the son's disappearance.
A warrant for the arrest of an Elizabeth, Pa., man on a charge of kidnaping was wired to police of that city by local authorities.

The man wanted is said to be one of three strangers seen with young Monaco Saturday. The trio was reported to have left Adena almost simultaneously with the boy's departure.

BUTTER BILL APPROVED
WASHINGTON.—The "Better
Butter" bill of Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, to define butter by law and require it to contain 50 per cent butterfat, was reported favorably yesterday by the senate agricultural committee.

DISTILLERS ASK HAYNES TO ADHERE TO U. S. LAW

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Distillers of the country, meeting here, selected a committee to work with the treasury department in relation to the concentration of medicinal whiskey and grain alcohol.

Resolutions appealing to the president, secretary of the treasury and commissioner of internal revenue to see that Prohibition Commissioner Haynes properly conducts his office in conformity with the legal regulations were passed and copies sent to each of those named.

MANIAC CAPTURED BY OFFICERS

Tear Gas Smokes Out Youth Who Shoots Four.

HINTON, W. Va.—(United Press)
—John Fredeking, maniac, who defied capture for 12 days, killed a deputy sheriff and wounded three others, including his own father, was "smoked" out of his lair with tear gas today.

When he was seized by state police, Fredeking was weak from loss of blood and starvation. He had been wounded during the night. The house which had been his lonely retreat during the 12 days in which he held authorities at bay, presented the appearance of a French villager's home after a German raid. It was riddled with bullets.
Allie Hoke, wounded by the maniac, in a hand-to-hand struggle, in-gured between life and death today.
Fredeking disappeared from an upstairs window shortly before state police stormed the house. He was found lying on the floor, quietly reloading his revolver. He offered a feeble protest, but did not fire.
The reign of terror imposed on Hinton by the activities of the maniac was ended with his capture and townfolk once more walked unafraid
in the district of the house.

Fredeking, now in the hands of state police, will be turned over to authorities of the state insane hospital. He has been mentally unbalanced for 15 years, relatives said.
He fled to the house, home of his father, after creating a disturbance
on a downtown street.

HUBBY HYPNOTIST

Mrs. Trotter Says Preacher exerted Power Over Girls.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—(United Press.)—Another of Rev. Mel Trotter's alleged accomplishments has been brought out in the divorce trial of his wife here—that of being possessed of hypnotist's influence over girls.
This power was believed to lie in husband, the nationally known evangelist, by Mrs. Trotter, according to the testimony of Miss Leah Livingstone, 34, a mission worker placed on the stand yesterday.

The witness said the accusation was made by Mrs. Trotter during a visit in 1921 at the evangelist's summer cottage, which burned recently at Macatawa Park.
Miss Livingstone said another girl, mission worker and supporter of Trotter, was lying on a couch in the cottage.
Mrs. Trotter pointed to the girl and said that she was under the influence of her husband's hypnotic power at that time, Miss Livingstone testified.

BAKER ON COURT
CLEVELAND.—Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, has accepted a place upon the new arbitration court of the International Chamber of Commerce. Baker, who is president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, yesterday sent in his acceptance.

MEN ARE VICTORS, CHIEFS ASSERT

Joint Conferences With Operators May End Controversy

U. S. CONTROL IS OPERATIVE

Cooperation of States Sought
By Government Agency.

CLEVELAND.—(United Press.)—Ohio coal operators today asked John L. Lewis, miners' chief, to call a nation-wide conference of operators and union chiefs for Cleveland Saturday, in an effort to end the coal strike.
This was revealed by Ohio
"conservatives" who have been willing for some time to negotiate with the strikers on a national or central district basis.

PITTSBURG.—(United Press.)— Representatives of 17 coal mines in western Pennsylvania and Ohio today offered to enter into any kind of a conference with the United Mine Workers that will bring the strike to a close. These mines employ 7,200 men and control a daily production of 32,000 tons.

F. F. Hannaway, acting president of District Number 5, declared he forwarded the offer to President John L. Lewis, who has received similar proposals from Ohio and Pittsburg operator groups.

PHILADELPHIA.—(Associated Press.)—John L. Lewis, head of the miners' union, said here this afternoon that he had every reason to believe that an interstate joint conference of the central competitive field will be arranged within a few days.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—(Associated Press.)—Indiana operators would meet with miners' representatives in a four state conference if operators of the other states in the central competitive field would enter the conference. Governor Mc-Cray of Indiana said in a message today to John Hessler, president of district number 11, United Mine Workers of America.

PHILADELPHIA.—(United Press)
—Prediction that the miners will be back in the pits within 30 days was made by miners' leaders assembled here today.

John Hessler, representative from Terre Haute, Ind., declared:
"The strike is won for the miners."

He said he expected a joint conference with the operators would be called and differences quickly settled.

FEDERAL CONTROL AID SOUGHT
BY SECRETARY HOOVER'S BODY
WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press.)—The federal machinery for emergency control of coal distribution completed by President Harding's appointment of a central committee of departmental heads,
the government today looked to states for the necessary cooperation to put the system in effective operation.

Immediately after being named chairman of the committee Secretary Hoover at the request of the president asked state governors to set up the necessary organization in each state for insuring equitable distribution and the maintenance of fair prices for coal under the administration's plan. This organization, he said, was to assume responsibility for all distribution within the boundary of each state except as to railways.

ASSISTANCE IS ASKED
At the same time the cooperation of the several transportation regulatory bodies was requested by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Aitchison, another member of the committee, in facilitating operation of the priority orders for shipments of coal and necessities.

President Harding again suggested that those on strike in both industries return to work under conditions already proposed by him while the reasonableness of their demands was being threshed out by agencies
set up for that purpose.

The president's statement was made in a telegram to J. Cleave Dean, chairman of the Railway Employees
Publicity Association, Chattanooga, Tenn. Denying Mr. Dean's charge that the administration was "attempting to put American labor under the gun," in its policy toward the present strikes, the president declared that "if you mean to challenge the righteousness of free men to be protected in their lawful pursuits against interference and violence I will be glad to join you in submitting that question to the decision of the American people."

NOT CANDIDATE
PARIS.—"I am not and will not be a candidate for president of Poland, or for membership in the diet;
I am out of politics." This declaration was made today by Ignace J.
Faderewski.

GIGANTIC BOOTLEG RING CAUSES LIQUOR EMBARGO

Warehouses Formerly Filled With Booze Now Hold Water.

GOVERNMENT LACKS PROOF

Exposure of Plot is Made by New York Paper.

NEW YORK.—(Associated Press)
—The embargo recently placed on liquor importations by the government was attributed by the New York Tribune today to a successful plot by a huge bootleg combine by which "liquor warehouses which had bulged with imported wines and whiskey now bulge with barrels of water."

"Lack of convicting evidence alone," says the newspaper, "prevents the government from officially revealing one of the biggest liquor scandals since prohibition."

Bootleg rings, the article says,
are suspected of having corrupted government employees in various branches of the revenue service in a successful plot to divert millions of dollars worth of liquor importations into bonded warehouses.

LIQUOR FLOW INCREASES
From August to the end of December last year $5,500,000 worth of liquors were imported and stored in government warehouses, mostly along the Atlantic seaboard and during the twelve months of 1921
liquor importations, the story says,
more than doubled those of 1920.

Since permits to withdraw the liquors were necessary, no alarm was felt over the incoming tide of whiskey and wine, but the bootleggers were alleged to have evaded the use of permits and developed the practice of watering their visible stock.

Under the law if anybody wants to import liquor, store it in a warehouse, then change his mind and export the stuff back whence it came, nobody has violated any section of the statutes intended to make the country alcoholically arid, and the changing of wine or whiskey to water is carried out then the weaker fluid is what goes back to wet countries, while the stronger goes down
the throats of Americans, so the story says.

Until a few months ago it was understood that bootleggers used to store their stocks for ostensible transshipment to Cuba, Mexico or countries with similar attitudes towards drink, and then divert the liquor during rail shipment in this country. But a court decision held these transshipments to be illegal under the Volstead law. From this it is said resulted the water substitute method within the warehouses.

RUM BOATS SEIZED
NEW YORK.—(Associated Press)
—Seizure of three alleged rum running boats over-night was declared by federal prohibition agents today to indicate the resumption of activity by liquor smugglers who have been uncommonly quiet for several months.

The first seizure was reported by the harbor police — that of the auxiliary sloop "X 10766" which was taken in the Narrows with 250 cases of liquor aboard.

The second ship was taken by coast guards who had gone to her aid when she grounded on a sand bar off Point O' Woods, Long Island.
They said they found the vessel to be the sloop "XJ6" carrying 1,200 cases of liquor worth $84,000.

The "dry navy" chaser Hansen which went out last Tuesday reported she had picked up the sloop
"Marion Mosher" three miles from Fire Island. The boat was headed for New York with a cargo of liquor
so heavy the water was washing over her gunwales.

ASKS SOUL EASE

Aged Findlay Man Says Wife, 52, Was Alienated.

FINDLAY.—(United Press.)—
Michael M. Misamore, 60, today charged Robert E. Egbert, 48, with alienating the affections of his 52-year-old wife.
Misamore in a heart balm suit
filed here, demanded that Egbert pay him $10,000 "soul ease" in two installments:
1—$3,000 for inducing Mrs. Misamore to leave him in March last year.
2—$7,000 for "advertising the fact by taking her automobile riding."

The Misamores have three grown children.

FIGHT RECORD BROKEN
BEELEVILLE, Ill.—The longest flight ever attempted by the army lighter than air craft service was completed today when the dirigible balloon A-4 arrived at Scott Field near here. The blimp arrived from Langley Field, Virginia, a distance of approximately 1,100 miles in forty hours and forty minutes of actual flying time. Two stops were made.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER OF "TURKEY KING" PROBED

CINCINNATI.—Detectives today wrestled with details of the murder of Leon Renaker, 37, "Turkey king of the world."
Renaker, murdered in his bed at Winchester, Ky., was the victim of a carefully plotted attack, his brother Walter, of Cincinnati, declared today.
No evidences of robbery could be found.

The "Turkey king's head was beaten in with a heavy lead pipe. He was president of the Renaker Poultry Company.

HOOVER ASSURED OF LIMA AID

C. C. Wires Head of Federal Fuel Administration.

Immediately following announcement that Herbert Hoover, secretary of the United States department of commerce, had been appointed chairman of the federal fuel and food administration, he was notified that Lima stands ready to aid him.

A telegram was dispatched early Thursday morning telling progress hereby the Lima chamber of commerce. Attention was called to the work of the local fuel committee.

It reads as follows:
WIRE TO HOOVER
"Herbert Hoover: Lima Chamber of Commerce Fuel committee at your service, with survey of local industrial and domestic situation
complete, under direction of Chairman H. L. Breckenridge. We await instructions from either your committee or state administrator if such is named. Signed, Lima Chamber of Commerce, Inc., J. Kennard Johnson, manager."

While the local committee has not been informed as to the action to be taken by the federal committee, it is ready to take over the distribution of coal and other fuel and ration it if necessary, it was announced.

Information as to the procedure to be followed will be received within a short time. It is hoped some plan for the aid of the domestic consumer will be seen, the committee states.

Following the announcement that the government was ready to take a hand in the coal situation, prices
of the mines have eased somewhat.
While quotations were not available it was said the decline had amounted to as much as $2 and $3
on soft coal.

BUYING STOPPED
A number of large consumers have stopped buying, reports to the local dealers show and are holding out for coal at not more than $3.50 a ton at the mines. If they are able to hold off their orders for some time, coal prices may drop to that level, coal men say.

Meanwhile, domestic users in Lima are buying coal in small quantities in order to be ready for any eventuality. Small industries are being cared for by the fuel committee until a rationing plan has been adopted, the committee stated Thursday.

CURSED BY WIFE

Sorrowing Husband Plans
Burial of His Affinity.

NEW YORK.—Cursed by the wife who said his days were numbered because of his unfaithfulness, John Reisler, sportsman, today mournfully planned the funeral of his slain affinity, Miss Bertha Katz.

The wife, Mrs. Minnie Reisler, in fall, charged with slaying her young and pretty sister whom she charged stole her husband's love, heaped in-vectives upon the dead Bertha and Reisler.

"I did right," she said.
Mrs. Reisler today pleaded with police in the Brooklyn jail to release her two sons, George and Morris, who also are being charged with the crime.
"I did it, I tell you," she said.
"Morris only said he killed Bertha to protect me."

IDENTITY OF BANDIT
PUZZLE TO OFFICIALS

RAVENNA.—Identity of the gun man killed by Deputy Sheriff Frank Carey near Geauga Lake, after Carey had been shot thru the neck, remained a mystery today.
A posse of officials and farmers searched swamps near Geauga Lake last night, but could get no trace of the two companions of the dead man. Carey is recovering.

FIRE LOSS $20,000.
OAK HARBOR.—Fire which caused $20,000 damage, destroyed a large barn and contents on the Les-tor Parkson farm.

PRESIDENT MEETS WITH LEADERS

More Conferences for Afternoon
At White House Planned

VIEW OF ALL PRESENTED

Seniority Discussed — Peace
May Be Effected Soon.

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press)—The White House again today became the center of developments in the rail strike and the focus of efforts toward peace, President Harding meeting in conference first with T. Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives and then with the strike leaders headed by B. M. Jewell who reached Washington early in the day from Chicago.

Jewell and his colleagues went into conference with the president at 11 o'clock shortly after Cuyler had concluded an hour and a half's discussion of the strike situation with Harding.

Cuyler on leaving the White House said he had presented the viewpoint of the railroad managements and that he would remain in Washington to await the pleasure of the president, and that there had been no new developments in the situation.

PLAN ANOTHER MEETING
Cuyler indicated that he would return to the White House for another conference after the president had discussed the strike situation with the strike leaders. Pressed for an opinion as to whether seniority was the sole stumbling block in the way of settlement, he said he had seen no statement from Jewell on the point and could not, therefore,
say whether that was the position taken by the union.

The strike leaders held a brief conference at their hotel before according to the White House, the heads of the six international unions meeting with William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, another of the labor organizations involved in the strike.
Jewell participated in the conference
only for a few minutes just before it adjourned.

LEADERS ARE SILENT
All of the strike leaders maintained absolute silence regarding their visit to Washington prior to seeing the president, even refusing to say whether they came at the invitation of Harding or upon their own initiative. The general belief, however, was that Secretary of Labor Davis during his conference with Jewell last week at Mooseheart, Ill., had suggested the leaders come to Washington and that they had accordingly accepted that suggestion after Davis had acquainted the president with it.

Union chiefs who conferred with the president in addition to Jewell and Johnston included Timothy Healy, president of the firemen's organization, J. W. Kline, president of the blacksmiths, J. A. Franklin, president of the boiler makers; M.
F. Ryan, president of the carmen; James Burns, vice president of the sheet metal workers; and Edward Evans, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

MEET AGAIN TODAY
On leaving the White House after an hour and a half's conference Jewell and his assistants said they would meet again with the president at 2:30 p. m. They added they did not know whether any others besides themselves would participate in the afternoon conference.

Jewell, acting as spokesman for the group, said the morning conference was confined to a general discussion of the strike situation.
The labor leaders endeavored to give the president their view as to the controversy, Jewell said, declining to be drawn out by questions as to details of the conference discussion.

AGREEMENT MADE
B. & O. May Settle Strike With Its Employees.

BAITIMORE, Md.—(United Press)—Striking repairmen represented by C. W. Galloway, vice president of the railroad department American Federation of Labor and executives of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, have reached an agreement for settling their dispute,
it was believed here today.
In case any agreement was reached at the conference held here yesterday it must be submitted to Bert
M. Jewell, president of the strikers, for final approval. It is not thought that Jewell will settle the strike except on a national basis.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, refused to make public the results of the conferences.

STRIKE IS CALLED.
MUSKOGEE, Okla.—All engineers, pumpmen and firemen employed at coal mines in Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas were called out by the district union board.

WORK WHEN YOUNG PLAY LATER

Business Expert Analyzes Successful Commercial Career.

MUST TOIL DURING YOUTH

Second Half of Life Pointed to As Rest Period.

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK.—(Special).—Which of these two men is, in your opinion, wise?

Which mode of life is the more conducive to really worth while success?

I know one eminently successful business man who is visiting his business only about once a week all thru the summer and who devotes only two hours each day to business affairs.

I know another prominent business man who is not taking any vacation whatsoever this year and who has taken hardly a single respite from business in the last ten years.

Which is the wise man?
Which is the unwise?

In my judgment the first is acting extremely wisely.

But I am not so sure that the second is acting so very unwisely.

For the first man is over 60 and the second is only 40.

The first has been a voracious slave to business for more than 40 years and I believe this is the first summer he is spending in semi-leisure. As he now has his large affairs thoroughly organized and in charge of younger men, he is not richly entitled to take things easy and to devote more attention to the things that will make for the upbuilding of his health than to the stern, wearing affairs of business?

When he asked me what I thought of his "loafing," I related to him what John D. Rockefeller once told me was this: "People persist in thinking that I was a tremendous worker, always at it early and late, summer and winter. The real truth is that I was what you would now call a 'SLACKER' after I reached my middle thirties. I used to take long vacations at my Cleveland home every summer and spent my time planting and transplanting trees, building roads, doing landscape gardening, driving horses and enjoying myself with my family, keeping in touch with business by private telegraph wire. I never, for the time I was in retirement, let my business engross all my time and attention; I always took an active interest in Sunday school and church work, in children and if I might say so, in doing little things for friendless and lonely and poor people. I feel sincerely sorry for some of the business men who occasionally come to see me; they have allowed their business affairs to take such a grip on them that they have no thought for anything else and have no time to really live as rational human beings."

Now as to the 40-year-old executive who keeps at it hammer and tongs all the time.

Altho he works tremendously hard and uses up an enormous amount of vitality, he enjoys his duties so much that he never calls it, has no attractions for him. He would be unhappy if not actively on the job. The responsibility for running a very large business rests chiefly upon him. He regards this responsibility as a very serious, a very solemn trust. He feels thoroughly sympathetic towards the thousands of workers in his organization and would not think of doing anything—of leaving anything undone—which might interfere with the full time employment of these people.

Also he has frankly told me that he wants to make a lot of money, for himself. His income is governed by the amount of profits earned. He is not yet a millionaire—I should estimate he is about half way there.

He has been blessed with wonderful physique. He takes care of his self very well in the sense that he never sits up late at night playing cards or attending "parties" or indulging in any other amusement or dissipation which would prevent him going to bed early. He takes vigorous exercise before most men are out of bed in the morning.

I asked him once why he didn't play golf. He immediately replied: "It's too slow for me. I can get around to it when I'm an old man."

I tried to impress upon him that he had reached the time of life when he ought to begin thinking of how he would spend the leisure hours he admitted he looked forward to indulging in when he grew older. I cautioned him that I had known many "successful" men who, when the money making game had lost its appeal for them, found themselves miserable because they hadn't cultivated an aptitude for recreation. But I couldn't make him a convert.

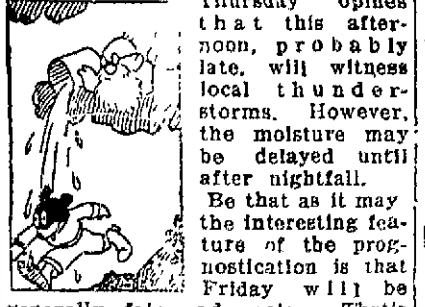

My philosophy of life and success, briefly is this: Those who do not halt and plan and sweat in the first half of their life are likely to suffer discomfort and hardship, not to say poverty in the second half of their life; that there is far more danger of young men doing too little than too much work; that towards middle life it is well to take a rational amount of time for recreation and for domestic happiness; and that as old age approaches it is well to lighten business burdens by transferring them to younger shoulders and thus have more time, not merely for rational enjoyment, but for doing worthwhile things for humanity.

You haven't known many young men, have you, who killed themselves by overwork? But I am sure you have known quite a few who have made a fizzle of their life by not applying themselves diligently enough to their work during the years when solid foundations should have been laid.

SHOWERS ON WEATHER CARD

Employing an unusual number of words in framing his forecast for the current period, the weatherman Thursday opines that this afternoon, probably late, will witness local thunderstorms. However, the moisture may be delayed until after nightfall.

Be that as it may the interesting feature of the prognostication is that Friday will be generally fair and cooler. That's worth while. Something to anticipate. However, the heat has not been excessive, at that.

Old Jupiter Pluvius has chosen a rain cloud as a form of chariot. From his vantage point he is able to sprinkle moisture over the earth at will. Ohio is on the edge of the east coast "wet belt," but is better favored than the Chicago territory, which has been and still is, extremely dry.

MOTION DENIED IN PARKING CASES

Draymen Face Trial for Violating Ordinance.

A motion to dismiss action against eight draymen charged with having violated the parking ordinance was overruled Thursday in police court, by Acting Judge Benjamin Motter.

The motion was filed and argued by William Klinger, former judge of the Allen-co common pleas court, representing the draymen.

Judge Klinger presented six reasons in argument for dismissal of the action.

He claimed that no crime or offense had been committed; that such parking as the draymen were engaged in could not be prohibited by a municipal ordinance; that the ordinance is void as it violates the constitution of the U. S. and the constitution of the state of Ohio; that it is unconstitutional as to time; and that it benefits some business at the expense of others.

City Solicitor Lands argued against the motion, claiming that it is duly authorized by Ohio laws.

As a result of the overruling of the motion, the eight draymen will have to stand trial. The cases were set for 9:30 a. m. Tuesday morning.

The draymen have been in the habit of parking their wagons or trucks on Spring-st near Main-st, where they awaited calls.

Pending settlement of the cases, Judge Klinger advised his clients to move their stands to the market house grounds, as they were advised to do by police.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR LAWN PARTY TONIGHT AT ST. RITA'S HOSPITAL

All is in readiness for the third annual lawn party of St. Rita's hospital, which will be given Thursday evening on the grounds surrounding the hospital at nurse's home, W. High and N. Baxter-sts.

In case of rain, the event will be deferred until Friday evening.

The national colors and brilliantly lighted Japanese lanterns will cast a pretty glow over the scene.

Nurses of the training school are in charge of the arrangements and funds will be used for hospital purposes. Hospital nurses will assist them.

John W. Beall, who has staged numerous entertainments, will be in charge of presentation of a continuous vaudeville program. Tables from which ice cream and cake will be served will hold bowls of garden bloom of every hue. There will be a fish pond, a country store, candy booth and other attractions. An orchestra will provide music.

GROVER IS VICTIM IN CASHING CHECK FOR $24 REPORTED AS FORGERY

A forged check amounting to $24.75 was taken to police headquarters Thursday by W. C. Good, grocer, 1074 S. Central-av. A request that it be investigated.

The check is similar to one reported passed on S. I. Evans, grocer, E. Wayne-st, Saturday.

Police are of the opinion that the checks were either passed by a follower of the circus here Saturday, or by an individual in the city who is making a practice of uttering forged checks on grocers.

The check is drawn on F. Mullen and made payable to F. Ward. The endorsement is similar to the name of the man for whom it was drawn. In addition, a fictitious address was added to the endorsement.

Good gave the check to Altschul Brothers, fruit dealers, in payment for a bill. They in turn, deposited it with their bank. From there it was returned with the notation "forged."

Police will first attempt to link it up with a series of recent forgeries for amounts similar to that for which this check was drawn.

GETZ FUNERAL SERVICE ARRANGED FOR FRIDAY

The body of Mrs. William F. Getz, 206 S. Pine-st, who died Wednesday at St. Rita's hospital, following an operation for appendicitis, has been removed to the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Getz, 729 E. North-st.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 8:30 a. m. at St. Rose Catholic church. Interment will be at Gethsemani.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Thomas Raymond Donoghue, 21, bank clerk and Helen Pearl Triplehorn, 25, bank clerk, Bluffton.

Congressman Chas. L. Knight, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, will speak at Lima Moose Temple, Friday evening, July 28, 1922, at 8 p. m. Subject: Labor, public utilities and other live questions. A cordial invitation extended to every one.

ST. RITA'S LAWN PARTY THE THIRD ANNUAL ST. RITA'S LAWN PARTY WILL BE HELD TODAY AT THE HOSPITAL EVERYONE INVITED. ENTERTAINMENT FOR ALL.

ODDITIES SEEN IN STREET NAMES

N. West-st and W. North-st Confusing to Many.

MEN, EVENTS ARE REVEALED

How Some Thorofares Got Names Is Puzzle.

Did you ever go east on the south side of W. North-st and wonder who it was that ever had the audacity to name it that way?

Or perhaps someone tells you to drop around at his home about 9 p. m. and you get N. West-st mixed with W. North-st and by the time you get everything straightened out the gang has gone home.

Disorganized mode of naming Lima streets has caused city officials much trouble and on many occasions it has been proposed to change the names of streets in accordance with a definite plan.

No one knows how Lima streets got their names if a two hours quiz among old residents is any criterion. With the exception of a few streets, the reason for the names is obscure.

Most every city has a Main-st and many of them have a Market-st, so the origin of the two principal thorofares is apparent. High-st is also a favorite and generally denotes a street parallel with the highest portion of the city.

Elm-st was so named because of a number of stately elm trees which stood along its route. Several of them are to be found today, altho most of them have long since been cut down.

This being so, one is to suppose that Spring-st lies near the site of an ancient spring which refreshed both man and beast before the days of Lost Creek reservoirs and water main extensions, a citizen asks.

Fire Chief John Mack has resided in Lima for 35 years, but he admits he could never figure why West and North-sts were so named. West-st is west of the court house, but North-st is south of it, so that is not the reason.

Perhaps it is because one is west and the other north of the public square, Mack says. However, if that is true, why do we not have a South-st and an East-st, he asks.

Some years ago the Emerald Park addition was opened on the North side. This was responsible for O'Connor, Murphy and Mallen-sts, all names with the proper Hibernian flavor.

History recalled—Dowry-av, Lafayette-st, Flanders-av, Franklin-st, Jefferson-st, Lincoln-av, Lowell-av, Madison-av, Verdun-av, Washington-st and Wayne-st were evidently so named because of historical interest.

Muller-av, Dinsdale-av, Weadock-av, Michael-av, Baxter-st, Morris-av, Pierce-st, Purot-av, McDonald-st, Robb-av, Scott-st and others similarly named thorofares bring back to memory prominent men in connection with the development of the city.

A number of streets have been named in connection with the towns they lead to. Among these are Delphos-av, Spencerville-rd, Bellefontaine-av and the Wapakoneta-rd.

Evon O. Sellers, city auditor, says: "It one wants to know why some of our streets are named as they are, he will have to ask the man who named them—and he is dead." So there you are.

C. C. COMMITTEE TO WORK OUT DETAILS OF LANDING FIELD FOR PLANES HERE

Possibilities for a landing field for aircraft was discussed by the directors of the chamber of commerce at the Lima club, Thursday morning.

A committee will be appointed at once to study the government requirements and the classification which would be given Lima on aerial highway maps now being drawn.

Dr. W. L. Neville made a report to the directors telling them of the work at Indianapolis.

Inquiries to the board since the movement was first broached show that many Lima persons are contemplating the purchase of planes and that at least one group is ready to start assembling the craft, should the landing field plan go over.

In three years a city without a landing field will be in the same class as a city without a railway station now, one of the directors said. Many planes would touch Lima if a field was established here, it was pointed out.

GRAIN ELEVATOR BURNED AT SCOTTS CROSSING

A grain elevator at Scotts Crossing, west of Elida, in Marion-pt, owned by M. B. Lindemann, of Delphos, was destroyed by fire Wednesday.

Origin of the blaze is unknown. It was discovered by the F. C. Meyers family who conduct a grocery nearby. The fire had attained such headway that it was impossible to save the structure.

A considerable quantity of oats was stored in the elevator, but no wheat. Lindemann has not estimated the loss.

TOLEDO YOUTH IS HELD IN OTTOVILLE ROBBERY

Oscar Lauer, 17, Toledo, grandson of Postmaster John Lauer of Ottoville, Putnam-co, whose alleged confession is said to have cleared up a number of postoffice and railroad station robberies at Ottoville, Ft. Jennings and Continental, was held to the federal grand jury at Toledo, it was learned Thursday.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking into the Ottoville postoffice July 21. His bond was placed at $25,000.

Lauer is reported to have secured more than $100 in stamps, cash and savings certificates as the result of his escapades.

YOUTHS WHITTLE PARK BENCHES, USE PROFANE LANGUAGE, IS COMPLAINT

Fred Wallace, playground supervisor, takes exception to the assumption of east end boys and young men.

He told police so in a complaint filed at headquarters Wednesday night.

Wallace reported east enders are using Lincoln park for a loafing place and the equipment for whittling purposes. He asserts that youths between the ages of 15 and 25 have been congregating in Lincoln park between the hours of 3 p. m. and 1 a. m. every night, using profane language spoken in loud tones and testing their skill at carving on playground equipment and benches in the park.

BIDS INVITED ON STREET WORK

Commissioners To Get Offers on Surfacing, Friday.

Bids will be received by the county commissioners up until noon Friday for the surfacing of Findlay-rd from Jackson-st to the D. T. & I. Railroad and E. Kibby-st from Prospect-av to Bellefontaine-av.

Commissioners will receive prices on bituminous macadam and asphaltic concrete. They may favor the latter material if the price is within reason, because of its greater wearing quality, it is stated.

Cost of macadam for Findlay-rd is estimated at $5,788.25 and on E. Kibby-st, $5,426.45.

Estimated price for asphaltic concrete for the two streets will be: Findlay-rd, $14,181.25; Kibby-st, $13,674.90.

Both streets were partly constructed last year, when a base of water bound macadam rock was laid. Traffic has passed over this base all winter and caused it to settle firmly. Some holes have appeared which will require filling.

Work on Kibby-st was halted for a time a year ago when Elmer McElroy, then city service director, attempted to force the county to pay for water used in a steam roller.

Commissioners stopped work on the street. It was resumed when the city receded from the position taken.

AUTOISTS NOW IN N. M. A. BODY

Lima Motorists Change Over From A. A. Association.

Members of the Lima Automobile club are now affiliated with the National Motorists association, along with other clubs of the Ohio States Automobile association. Secretary Chas. C. Jones, writes that he has just turned over dues for 25,565 Ohio members to the national organization.

Membership in the national body does not cost the Lima members extra dues. Their yearly fees in the local club take care of their national membership.

On account of the A. A. being held antagonistic to the last interests of Ohio motor clubs, practically all of the clubs in the state withdrew from the organization on July 1.

New membership cards, bearing the letters N. M. A. (National Motorists association) are to be issued this week. The new cards will be old cards, showing membership in the A. A.

Removal of the Lima Auto club from the Argonne Hotel to 120 E. North-st, in the rear of the Norval Hotel is completed, James I. Heffner, manager announces. Removal was necessitated by phenomenal growth of the club and its increasing activities.

The rooms there give the club enlarged quarters, including a rest room for convenience of tourists.

LARSEN IS REELECTED HEAD OF CITY LIBRARY

L. A. Larsen, president of the Lima Library board, was re-elected at a meeting Wednesday night.

Other officers chosen for the ensuing year are: Mrs. E. Langhues, vice-president; O. H. Seifridge, secretary and John W. Roby, treasurer.

Budget of expenses for the year beginning January 1, 1923, was approved. It will be submitted at a special meeting Saturday of the board of education before being filed with C. R. Phillips, county auditor, for approval of the budget commission at its meeting in August.

Committees of the board will be named August 9, when President Larsen, at present in New York on business, can be present.

LIMA YOUTH, WITH CIRCUS IS SOUGHT IN HARRISBURG

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, is believed the destination of Jacob Wheeler, 15-year-old Fairview-av youth who is said to have left Lima to join the Al Barnes circus.

No word from the boy has been received, but his mother learned the circus is due at Harrisburg and sent a special delivery letter there to inform the manager to hold him.

That Lester Tullis, a friend, is with Wheeler is now denied. As the youths left about the same time, it was thought they were together, but Tullis is working in Monroe, Michigan, according to his parents. There is no colored lad with Wheeler, as first reported, it was said by relatives. Tullis is a white boy.

STRIKEBREAKERS SENT INTO DELPHOS SHOPS

DELPHOS — Twenty strike breakers have been shipped into the Clover Leaf Railroad shops of this city during the past week. Shopmen who walked out here nearly a month ago, however, have created no violence as a result. They are conducting an orderly picket system. Stores in this city display signs reading: "We do not cater to strike breakers."

FIGHT FOR PAVED ROAD IS WON

Gap in Delphos-Ft Jennings Highway To Be Closed.

LEON HERRICK CAPITULATES

Will Be Included in Year's Last Letting, August 11.

Announcement Thursday by the state highway department that a two-thirds mile section of the road north of Delphos will be included in the 1922 Allen-co road program, ended a long battle waged to connect Delphos and Ft. Jennings with a paved highway.

Director of Highways Leon C. Herrick Thursday issued orders that the section be included in the last big state aid road letting of the year, on August 11.

Members of the board of county commissioners who have been bombarded with repeated demands from Delphos citizens to build roads near that city, were highly gratified with the news.

"It has been a harder battle to get that road," declared Commissioner A. J. Gray, "than any other in the county."

Appropriation of state aid for the road and its advertisement for sale August 11, is the result of co-operation between the commissioners, Lima Auto Club and division highway office.

Commissioners made three applications for aid, the last going in some days ago. Officials of the Lima Automobile club made repeated requests that the road be built this year. Sunday, in order to complete arrangements for letting six engineers from the office of G. F. Clements, division engineer spent the day surveying the road. In the two days following, estimates and maps were prepared and sent to Columbus.

The road is known as Section A of the Delphos-Kalidard. It will extend from the north corporate limits of Delphos to the county line, a distance of two-thirds of a mile.

WILL CLOSE GAP
The pavement will be 16 feet wide and the roadway 28 feet. The estimated cost is $14,478.77. The road will be constructed of bituminous macadam, with either oil or tar surface.

November 15 is the date set for completing the work.

The highway will connect Delphos with a paved road commencing on the Putnam-co line and extending north to Ft. Jennings, Kalida and Napoleon.

HOOLEY IS NAMED Ft. Wayne Man Pennsylvania Ticket Agent, Here.

Effective August 1, J. B. Hooley, ticket agent at the Baker-st station, Ft. Wayne, Ind., will become ticket agent at the Lima Pennsylvania Lines station, it was announced Thursday.

Hooley will relieve W. W. Crooks, present freight and ticket agent, permitting Crooks to devote his entire time to the building up of the Pennsylvania Lines freight business in the city.

Crooks was placed in charge of the two offices during the war, but the tremendous growth of freight business in and out of the city has made the work too heavy for one man.

Hooley has been with the Pennsylvania Lines for more than 20 years in various capacities, having started as a telegrapher at Bucyrus, going to Upper Sandusky and from there to Ft. Wayne.

Rapid expansion of freight business is contemplated by the Pennsylvania lines, following settlement of the coal and rail strikes, it was announced.

TABULATION OF BIDS FOR STREET WORK INCOMPLETE

Tabulation of 67 bids on street paving by seven contractors has been completed, Vaughn Miller, city engineer, said Thursday. Letting of the streets will be taken care of Friday morning.

At this time Miller and C. A. Bingham, city manager, will go over the plans for the 13 streets and decide the type of pavement to be used on each. Immediately thereafter formal announcement as to who will do the work on each will be made.

It has not been decided what type of paving will be used on several of the streets and no definite decision will be made until the bids on the different types have been thoroughly examined, Miller announced.

"WHITE STREAK" CAR IN CLIMBING EXHIBITIONS

Demonstrations of hill climbing and other difficult feats will be given at different places in the city by a Mitchell "White Streak" automobile.

This series of demonstrations will be under the direction of A. C. Owens, publicity manager and L. E. Hotchkiss, district sales agent of the automobile company. An agency may be established here, it was announced.

BAR MEMBERS SEE HOPE FOR FEDERAL COURT HERE

Confidence that Lima will obtain a federal court was expressed at the mid-summer luncheon of the Allen-co Bar association at the Shawnee club, Wednesday.

Efforts being exerted by the association thru all possible channels will be crowned with success and Lima will receive the benefits of the federal court, it was predicted.

A movement was also started to bring the Ohio State Bar association convention to Lima next year. Committees were appointed to see if this would be possible.

ST. RITA'S LAWN PARTY THE THIRD ANNUAL ST. RITA'S LAWN PARTY WILL BE HELD TODAY AT THE HOSPITAL EVERYONE INVITED. ENTERTAINMENT FOR ALL.

STATE HIGHWAY BOARD PRODDED IN ROAD WORK

Failure of the state highway department to return a final resolution on the Elida-Scotts Crossing section of the Harding Highway, jeopardized the letting scheduled for Monday, July 31.

Resolution prosecuting attorney and was forwarded to Columbus for an official O. K. This is a necessary step to insure sale of the bonds for the county's half.

Glen Wallace, clerk of the board, made a hurry-up trip to Columbus, obtained the proper signatures on the instrument and returned with it Friday.

The proposed improvement is 4.178 miles long, and bids will be taken on four types of material, ranging in price from $113,925.51 to $131,730.61. The materials are bituminous macadam, asphalt, Kentucky rock asphalt, and concrete.

BEETHAM SLAMS CARMICHAEL THOMPSON

Asks Anti-Saloon League to Prove Carmi's "Dryness."

Rupert Beetham, of Cadiz, Harrison-co, Republican candidate for nomination for Governor of Ohio, a visitor in Lima Wednesday evening, made an attack on the "dryness" of one of his competitors, Carmi A. Thompson.

Before leaving for Columbus, Beetham issued the following signed statement:

"I want the Anti-Saloon League to tell the people of Ohio what it really knows about Carmi A. Thompson's dryness. The American Issue endorses Thompson, myself and others and reasons Mr. Thompson dry because he voted for local option 15 years ago. Local option and prohibition are not the same thing. If the league knows Thompson is for prohibition and has his written statement or public declaration for it, they should give it to the voters. It might stir up the political atmosphere of Ohio very seriously. It is more important that the dry cause be upheld in Ohio than that any particular person be chosen for governor. The Anti-Saloon league should make the information clear. I have always been for prohibition and always expect to be and want a chance to clean the bootleggers out."

The new Goodyear
Cross-Rib Tread Cord

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord. Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can. You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value. We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth. The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction. In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation. It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for from 20% to 25% less. You can get the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord now, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, from any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

ATTACKS ON POMERENE

WHILE Senator Atlee Pomerene from Ohio is standing by his guns at Washington and fighting for the principles he believes are right and attempting to carry out the wishes of his constituents, he is being made a target for bitter attacks from political enemies. Pomerene, altho a candidate for re-nomination for the United States Senatorship from this state, is not taking the time away from his official duties to make a campaign.

Vicious attacks on opponents are to be deplored at any time. They are doubly distasteful when deception is practiced. Truthful statements cannot be objected to, but incorrect assertions, twisting of facts and misleading appeals act only as boomerangs when the truth is learned.

Senator Pomerene is on the job at Washington in the most critical time we have had since the war. He is lending his assistance to the solution of the grave problems we are facing and is backing the administration, altho of opposite political faith, in this matter. It has been only a short time since he appealed for support of the president in the industrial crisis before a big convention in this state.

It is to be regretted that, in view of the record he has made in the United States Senate, he is being embarrassed by attacks which he has not the opportunity to answer because of his loyalty to his government in a time of trouble.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

ONE of the most sensible suggestions probably ever offered as an aid to keeping boys and girls on the farm is that of Hugh J. Ridge, county farm agent, who urges annual vacations for farm youth the same as for those who reside in the city.

There is no greater treat for the city youth than to spend a few days or weeks on a farm during the summer vacation, but no one ever appears to have heretofore thought of the idea that perhaps a visit to the city, to a summer resort on a lake or the sea coast would be enjoyed and likewise be of great benefit to the young people who toil on the farm.

In the country districts the daily routine of the young people is mostly work. Aside from their school hours there are multitudinous other duties to perform. They have little time for recreation. Probably one of the biggest reasons why boys and girls are getting away from the farm. The farm bureau is organizing clubs and working out programs that are designed to keep the boys and girls in the country contented, but something more is needed to round out the situation.

They need and should have an annual vacation, if only for a few days. Something that they can look forward to, with pleasurable anticipation. Youth is much the same, in city or country. When sending city boys and girls to the country or to the lakes for an outing, why not permit the country boys and girls to go to the city or to the lakes or elsewhere?

The plan is worth trying. Ridge is advocating it.

LURE OF THE CIRCUS

NEWS stories of the day have much to do with the disappearance of boys from their home environment, following the visit of a circus to a community. The situation presents a new, yet old, problem.

How to prevent youth from becoming enamored of the idea that "following a circus" is great sport, a remunerative activity and one that is the acme of pleasure, is a question that has never been answered and probably never will be.

Boys have always been lured away by the glitter of the circus. It presents to them something that is not equalled in any other direction. There is an old saying that experience is the best teacher. It is safe to wager that if a youth who has found "circus life" a daily grind of hard work, a bitter experience and one that boys should shun, were to endeavor to paint a true picture of such a life for any other boy, he would not be believed.

THE WISE BIRD KNOWS WHEN IT'S A GOOD TIME TO LEAVE

Youth, generally, has to stage its own lessons in life in the matter of experience. Attracted by the pomp and the tinsel of the pageant presented by the "great and only" circus, he is impelled to forsake home and friends and follow the false light in what he fondly believes is the high road to fame and honor and riches.

Disillusionment soon comes. Any circus attache will tell you that it is a "dog's life." Those who will not profit by the experience of others before them, must learn for themselves. It has always been so, and likely always will be, so long as there are circuses.

YOUR BREAD

THE world's wheat crop this year will furnish only a trifle more than a bushel and a half for each inhabitant.

A hungry man would make a bushel and a half of wheat disappear on short notice.

Is wheat-bread losing out as the staff of life? If not, it can hardly claim to be more than a frail bamboo cane.

To the poste, where saluted by an invitation to dine free at Shawnee Country club. With the barristers. As the guest of the Hon. Ralph P. Mackenzie. But printers on vacations and reporters nursing summer ills prevent. To the office, and at my stint, but with no ardent zeal. Thinking all the time Uncle Warren is a great man but could never make a birdie on our new No. 5. In discourse quite a spell with one of the ex-shoppers at the Lake Erie. Who tells me the pickets and the detectives on friendly terms are. And swap tobacco in no man's land. The best news we have had in many the day. Advertising in a newly come undertaker's window: "Ask any of our old patrons."

To lunch, on an omelet and canned mushrooms, delectably brewed. Over to Merl's for a trim. It was Alexander the Great, Merl says in discourse, who invented shaving in 335 B. C. And commanded all the Macedonian army to do disguise itself against the Persians. Capt. Frank Jose Butts, of Milledgeville, Georgia, suh, manicured my canvas boots neatly. And really wanted to carve me against my compliments a few days hence

Home, to find Betty had called. And a great hub bub about coke, which is ungettable. Spoke in gay mood with M'seur Irwin Wyre, long a collector of subscriptions. Now busied with Hoover & Bond in Lansing, Mich. Chief Lanker to order all weighing machines out of the business district because the bandits always get a weigh. So, chatted with Judge Kent Hughes, on the art of slicing and pulling when trees interfere. And with Ortho Barr on pinocchio. A fine, dexterous art.

In the afternoon, out to Shawnee to see Mayor Brud awarded the G. A. R. trophy. He went out in 61 and back in 65. In the mail a letter from a Christian Scientist preacher, or reader, or vestryman; whatever it is. Am not well posted on the sciences, having flunked my chemistry in college. Albeit, he, she or it proposes Uncle Warren say to the miners: "Back to the mines, you'll have your beer to-night."

And we'd all be nice and warm this winter; and the shipmen would wire: "Me, too, Uncle Warren." And freight would start sizzling along the tracks on adeptly repaired cars.

Dined well on a thick soup, broiled chops, snowflake pommies, and a tapoca for the sweet. To the Honorary for a bale of cotton and an overready against Merl's vacation to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. No, he's been married. Not a honeymoon. And so to bed.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

MIND AFFECTS HEALTH

One's health usually is considered a physical condition. True, but did you ever think how much the mind had to do with physical conditions? The absolute control of one's mind can often overcome bodily ailments.

Fear, for instance, can bring about utter chaos in a person's health. It may serve to paralyze, as has been observed. In the case of birds, many of which, the scarcely wounded by the small shot, fall to the ground as if struck by lightning. So it is in human life.

Then again, sad news will alter the expression of a man's face and eyes, lower his physical tone and eliminate the feeling of hunger. So, too, will good news tend to increase a man's sense of well-being and urge him on to greater activity.

Take the case of one successful business man for instance. He awoke one morning to find his credit attacked, his business in the hands of creditors and his pride crushed. He formerly enjoyed robust health and was vigorous and alert, but soon after his failure he lost flesh rapidly, became sleepless, depressed, constipated and hateful to those about him. During the next two years he was examined by one physician after another but it was not until relatives came to his assistance financially that he began to show any sign of improvement. This man has since gained his former physical condition.

A person should be careful about eating when in an unhappy frame of mind. If you are engaging in a conversational controversy or otherwise taxing your mental condition unpleasantly, indigestion is very apt to set in.

One should not lose sight of the ideal state at which to aim, namely a perfect capacity for self-control in all directions and at all times. It is surprising what a great deal of sickness this condition is able to ward off.

The Faculty of Ohio Wesleyan

Essential as are buildings, elaborate equipment, and a beautiful campus, much more so is a faculty composed of instructors of high ideals, vigorous religious life, and attractive personality.

In Ohio Wesleyan we insist on skill in instruction, enthusiasm for culture, devotion to learning, the pursuit of scholarship. We do not forget that comradeship of life in class and on campus, and intimacy of contact between student and professor are indispensable.

The final problem with Ohio Wesleyan is a human one—scholars of high moral purpose, minds trained to perceive the great religious values, personality that is consecrated to the making of a better world. At Ohio Wesleyan we insist that every instructor shall aim not only at the development of high intellectual life and well-balanced technical skill, but also the realization of the most intelligent Christian ideal for every student.

THE TATTOOED ARM

By ISABEL OSTRANDER

"Tried to catch the spirit kettle when the table tilted and the blazing alcohol ran up my sleeve!" He groined in spite of himself and, setting a serviette, he wrapped it about his injured arm. "Don't putter about with that stuff like an ass!"

"Very good, sir."
When this was accomplished Miles sought Scottie and found the latter chuckling to himself.
"What's the joke? Did you see Miss Hawks armed for conquest?"
"I did not!" Scottie still smiled broadly.
"I'm thinking of the march the young people have stolen on their families. Dick brought the girl back as he promised but she's not Miss Patricia any more; they hunted old Higgs on the running board and made for the minister's house before they left Preedale and it is young Mrs. Kemp who has come home."

"I'm glad of it," Miles said after a pause.
"There comes Roger Drake up the drive from the gate," he continued. "He's a sick man and no mistake!"
The scientist was walking more steadily than when he had left the house but slowly, and he paused every few steps to rest.

"Excuse me, sir, but may I help you?" Miles asked as he hurried forward.
"I saw you coming and I thought that you might perhaps feel a little weak still."
Miles became aware of the extreme inward agitation of the man. Roger leaned his weight heavily upon the younger man, who could feel the thin fingers closing about his elbow like hands of steel. The scientist summoned his remaining strength to negotiate the steps of the veranda and Hobart Drake himself opened the front door.
"What is this?" he exclaimed as he hastened to support his brother on the other side.
"Hobart!" With unexpected vigor the weak man thrust them aside with a sweeping gesture of his long arms and stood erect. "Hobart, I have found out who it is! I know—I know—the nemesis—!"
His voice had thickened oddly and the last word ended in a choking cry as he wavered and then suddenly pitched forward on his face.

Miss Drake's startled exclamation from the staircase was lost in Hobart's sharp command:
"Don't try to lift him, William! Turn him over—Great heavens! He has had a stroke!"

The body turned rigidly beneath their hands and Roger Drake lay staring widely upward at the ceiling, the left side of his face twisted into a hideously grotesque mask, the arm crooked and leg drawn up in a manner there could be no mistaking.
Miss Drake swept down to kneel

"IN THESE CASES, NOTHING—" beside him, but Andrew brushed her roughly aside and descended in reckless haste.
"Is it paralysis, Hobart? Shall I phone the doctor? Can he speak?" His ruddy face had paled and his voice was grave and shaken.
"The doctor, by all means, as quickly as you can get him here!" Hobart responded.
For an hour all was excitement while the stricken man was carried to his room and placed in bed. Carter, the physician and the detective were able to catch snatches of his phrases.
"—in these cases, nothing— Possibly in a day or so possibly in ten, unless, of course, another stroke— only absolute quiet and—look in again tonight."

Hobart had established himself as nurse and altho Miss Drake demurred, she was for once overruled and only permitted to take his place while her brother descended to snatch a hasty bite in the dining room. Miles hovered about in the hall just outside the sick room, beset with the question which haunted his mind.

While he pondered, Miss Drake appeared suddenly in the doorway and, seeing him, beckoned.
"William, I must go downstairs for a moment. Will you come in and sit beside Mr. Roger?"
Secretly thanking his lucky stars that he had been at hand, Miles entered and seated himself beside the still form outstretched upon the bed. The instant Miss Drake's footsteps had died away the detective bent forward.

"Mr. Roger!" He spoke in a low, compelling tone. "I am here to help you. If you realize what I am saying close your right eye!"
A wave of exultation swept over him. The eye-lid quivered and slowly, flutteringly, it closed!

"Good! Now, sir, I can't take your message to your brother for you, the thing you were about to tell him when you were overcome, but do you want to see him? Can he guess the name you were trying to speak?"

Miles waited but the eye stared unblinkingly, altho a spreading moisture had come into it and the pupil seemed to enlarge and darken with the effort at expression.

"Is there something you think I can do?"

"The eye closed, more quickly this time."

"Do you want anything? Is it in this room?"

The lid remained open but the eye itself moved toward the right as tho striving to see thru the blank wall beside which the bed had been placed.

Beyond the wall was the locked door behind which lay the relics of the past in the impotent guardianship of the woman centuries dead.

"You mean your storeroom, don't you sir?—You know that your belongings in here have been searched?—Do you know also that the lock of your storeroom has been tampered with?"

Miles drew a deep breath for at each question the eye had winked rapidly and an eager glint had shot across its dulled expanse.

"The room has been ransacked, sir. Did you know that?"

The eye widened and into it came a look of such utter despair that Miles obeyed a sudden impulse.

"I found a new key in the lock and the door swung open. The only thing that hasn't been touched is that long box that looks like a mummy case. It's safe still. I can fix that door so it can't be opened again by anyone. Shall I do it, sir?"

The eye winked spasmodically and rested on his for an instant while a single tear welled forth and rolled down the waxen cheek.

CHAPTER XVI
The next day was a busy one. At daybreak Miles presented himself at Miss Drake's door with one side of his face convincingly swollen by means of an improvised cotton plumper which he had inserted inside his cheek.

"It's my tooth, ma'am," he explained. "I just can't stand it any longer and the milkman will give me a lift to the station if you can spare me to run to town to see my dentist."

Permission was granted and he was soon rattling toward in the early train. On arrival he went straight to Headquarters and then journeyed uptown to an actors' agency, whose proprietor was an old acquaintance.

"You ain't givin' me much to go on, Owen," he complained when the visitor's errand had been explained.

"A full-fledged blonde, you say, and youngish. Calls herself 'Maizie'?"

"I'll do what I can for you."

It was not a great distance from the theatrical district to the dignified Archaeological Museum where Miles found Professor Nigel Lorton.

Spread before him on his desk was the spurious papyrus taken from the wrappings of the Peruvian mummy and which the detective had entrusted to Zorn to deliver on the previous day.

The old professor removed his spectacles and tapped his knee thoughtfully with them.

"My dear Sergeant," he began at last, while the other waited expectantly. "This document is as you assumed in your note, an imitation in texture and symbol of the ancient Egyptian and whether it is a hoax or not I confess that it is the most remarkable record it has ever been my privilege to examine."

"You found it easy to translate, sir?" Miles asked.

"Fairly so, altho the terms used were unfamiliar to me. I have made a transliteration for you also and with your knowledge of the subject of which it treats you will be able to determine if it is the hallucination of a disordered mind or the revelation of a brilliant if abnormal one."

It was well toward noon when the

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Baker and many, many other women.

conference ended and Miles left the building with a feeling of exultation not unshared with awe at the very enormity of the secret so fortuitously disclosed.

The theatrical producer had exerted himself to some purpose in the brief period allotted to him in which to locate the motion picture artist. Miss Maizie Gray, it happened, was playing second leads with the Luxor Company and would be delighted to meet the press representative, Mr. Owen Miles, at the Admiral for luncheon.

Maizie was anxious to keep the appointment but her professional smile changed to one of good-natured decision when she recognized her host.

"Oho!" she exclaimed with the utmost sangfroid as she buried her nose in his fragrant offering. "I might 'a' knowned there was ado somewhere. I wasn't on that you were in the road the other day, but I knew you were following Mr. Enloe off, and his nobel Mr. Andrew Drake. Wo'ts the lay?"

"I can't tell you that, but Drake's going to double-cross you," Miles had lowered his voice confidentially.

"I have proof that he means to double-cross me, too, and that's why I've come to join forces with you if we can reach an agreement. Suppose we give our order and then we can talk in peace."

That detail attended to, the detective went on: "There's a lot you'll have to take for granted, but you must use your own judgment about trusting me. If you show up with your little story before the right minute you'll queer the whole thing and we won't any of us get our bit, but it is only right that you should be on the spot to appear when I tip you off, and we two can rake in all the swag for ourselves."

"Sounds fair enough," Maizie admitted slowly. "You've come out honest, and strike me pink if I don't think you're on the square with me."

The arrival of their lunch put a temporary halt to further discussion of the subject, but later over the sweets Miss Maizie Gray showed herself to be a person of quick decision.

"I've made up my mind to put my money on you, old top!" she announced. "When do you want me to go to Brookline and where'll I put up? At the King's Arms? Won't price a widow named Mrs. Iggins who keeps to her room until she hears from you?"

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

DR. SNUFFLES CURES ANOTHER

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Yes," he said gravely, with a queer look at Cutie, "he's dreadfully sick."

One morning Mrs. Cottontail telephoned Dr. Snuffles, the fairy-man doctor, when Nancy and Nick were helping.

"I wish you'd stop in and see Cutie," she begged. "He's dreadfully sick and can't go to school."

So Dr. Snuffles hurried right over without eating the nice breakfast Nancy had fixed for him.

There lay Cutie, rolling over and over, and moaning and groaning.

Dr. Snuffles looked at Cutie's tongue. Then he felt Cutie's pulse and put a big thermometer into his mouth.

"Yes," said he gravely with a queer look at Cutie, "he's dreadfully sick. You'll have to pull down all the blinds and close all the doors and leave him quiet by himself."

"He must not see anybody at all!"

ble of fresh lettuce or a little pea soup?" he asked in a weak voice. "Not a thing," declared the doctor, shaking a large bottle. "And see to it, please, Mrs. Cottontail, that he gets a large spoonful of this bitter medicine every half hour, mixed with a little mustard and red pepper. He must stay in bed two weeks."

"Can't I have anything to eat, or read a book or see my friends, or ride ships down the bed clothes, or play tin-soldier or anything?"

"No, sir!"

Suddenly Cutie sprang out of bed. "Mom, I'm better," he declared, "I think I'll go to school."

It does what soap has never done before

An entirely new kind of soap that by itself loosens all the dirt. A kind of soap that requires less of your time and strength than any soap you have ever used.

Rinso does the family washing by gently soaking the dirt out of the clothes. Just use enough to get big lasting suds and only the worst spots will need to be rubbed.

A little dry Rinso gets even these clean.

In a washing machine Rinso makes just the penetrating suds needed to get the clothes snowy white.

Rinso is made by the largest soap makers in the world, to do the family washing as easily and safely as Lux does fine things. It comes in two sizes—the regular size and the big new package. Get Rinso today at grocery and department stores everywhere. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

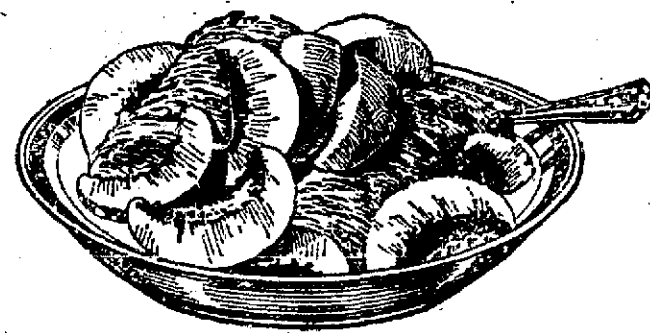

NOTE: In hard water it takes from 1/2 to 1 package (regular size) of Rinso to a tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1 1/2 to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lasting suds that loosen all the dirt.

GOLF FEATURES LADIES' DAY AT SHAWNEE CLUB

LADIES' day at Shawnee Country club Thursday elicited the same interest which every week thus far this summer has brought.

From early morning the golf course was filled with enthusiastic women and the contests for honors for the month caused keen competition among the players.

The rain clouds which hung heavy all day and spilled their contents in the country not far distant, were kind to the women golfers and the golf course was in splendid condition.

The heat of the day made the wide verandas, with the delightful sweeping breezes, a favorite lounging place and rooms of the delightful old club-house were fragrant and beautiful by the addition of garden flowers of various hues.

Luncheon was enjoyed at noon and the golf results discussed. In the afternoon the women played bridge, the tables being laid in the coolest spot afforded.

Miss Edith Simpson and Mrs. H. M. Crawford were hostesses for bridge play in the afternoon. Not until late in the evening will the women members wait their way back to the city.

Miss Alice Ludwig, missionary in the mining districts of West Virginia, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. C. Steiner, 1017 Bellefontaine-ave, has concluded her vacation and returned to her work. Miss Ludwig came here on furlough from the district mission field.

She has a wide acquaintance over the city, having been for some years advertising writer for the G. B. Blue Book. While here Miss Ludwig spoke before the missionary societies of Market-st and Olivet Presbyterian churches.

Mrs. Lawrence Long, 422 Prospect-ave, celebrated her birthday anniversary, a company of friends gathered at her home, Tuesday evening. Miss Beulah Bishop and Charles Bishop gave plans and violin numbers. Mrs. H. Jones and Miss Frank Stageman, Rochester, N. Y., gave piano selections. Miss Helen Southworth, Columbus, eloquently gave several readings. Miss Beulah Verbricht and Miss Kathryn Ferguson favored with readings.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Huffman were also among the entertainers. In the contest, Omer Freeman was successful and Robert Hughes secured consolation trophy. Supper was served upon the lawn surrounding the residence.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Blag, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ferguson and son, Charles; Mr. and Mrs. L. Kahler, and son, Russell; Mr. Bertha Kallher, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Huffman, Mrs. J. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Freeman and sons, Bernard and Leonard, Miss Harold Verbricht and daughter Beulah, Mrs. Monah, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ferguson and children, Billy and Kathryn, Mrs. C. O. Taylor and children, Laurel, Ella and Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clegg, Mr. and Mrs. Coney, Masters Elmer and John Richard Long, Master James Loredrich, Messrs. Robert Hughes, Charles Bishop and Fred Ferguson and the Misses Bess Bishop and Helen and Drahlo Ferguson.

Out of town guests were the Misses Agnes, Franz and Ruth Stageman of Rochester, N. Y.; Miss Helen Southworth of Columbus, and Thomas Gallagher, Altoona, Pa.

A large attendance of the members of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of Olivet Presbyterian church gathered. Miss Alice Ludwig, Wednesday, when she addressed the society upon her work among the miners in West Virginia.

The meeting was called purposely that Miss Ludwig might tell of her experiences and work and was held in the church parlors.

The meeting was called to order at four o'clock. Miss Ludwig spoke in the evening. A covered dish dinner was served at six o'clock. "The Little Light Bearers" of the church presented a Mother Goose playlet. Mrs. Milo Smith read a paper, "Orientals in the United States." Miss Maude Miller and Miss Harriet Kelly favored with vocal numbers.

Many men of the church attended the evening session and listened to the talk by Miss Ludwig.

Members of the Annapolis club enjoyed a delightful day on Tuesday, when they spent the time at a summer home at Orchard Island. An early start was made and the trip proved most pleasant for motoring. Water sports were enjoyed at this summer place and a basket picnic was served. The return to the city was made in the cool evening hours.

Club members who made the trip were Mrs. Adam Stolzer, Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Orin Turney, Mrs. Wallick, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Monthe, Mrs. Glass, Mrs. Meritz and Mrs. Brown.

Guests to enjoy the pleasures with members were Mrs. Coffey, Mrs. Correy, Mrs. Shindell, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Bogart.

Mrs. J. S. Myers, 606 W. Market-st, dispensed charming hospitality, Wednesday evening, when she welcomed a company of young people to a garden party and dance, honoring Miss Helen Weisburger. Dedication, who is the guest of her daughter, Miss Virginia Myers.

Masses of tiny electric lights and Japanese lanterns decorated the lawn and in rooms of the spacious home, which had been arranged for dancing, garden flowers of various colors, occupied every vantage point. Mrs. Myers was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Emily Yeakum.

Guests to enjoy this delightful event were the Misses Myra Friedly, Katharine Burke, Marzetta Blosser, Mary Louise Edwards, Dorothy Lee Durnbaugh, Elizabeth Greene, Catherine Curran, Ruth and Gertrude Meyer, Martha Kendricks, Albertine Lynch and Edna Vanover, Messrs. Carlton Stull, Leroy Hawshier, Dale Johnson, Ernest Fletcher, Robert Wellmore, Fred Tinker, Clarence Wetherill, Dick Tinker, Crit Taylor, Earl Bryan, Harold Thew, Oliver Runiger, Clifford Schmelsing, Francis Fockler, and Raymond DeVine.

Mrs. A. T. MacDonell, 631 W. Market-st, and her guest, who is her sister, Mrs. R. A. Heddins, Los Angeles, Mrs. Fred Seymour and Mrs. E. L. Andrews spent Wednesday in Mottville, Ind., motoring to that city.

MISS CHRISTEN'S DAILY PAGE OF CLUB AND SOCIETY EVENTS

Miss Adeline Bland, 207 W. High-st, will leave Friday for a trip to New York, stopping en route at Cleveland, where she will visit with the family of a brother.

Miss Beatrice Werner, 1007 W. Wayne-st, is entertaining Miss Bernadette Pulskamp, Cella, and Miss Rosalind Pulskamp, Rome City, Ind.

Mrs. Frank O'Brien, Chicago, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. D. J. Colley, No. 721 W. Market-st, has returned for a few days, expecting to come back to Lima within a week.

Mrs. George Vail, 420 S. Charles-st, charmingly entertained members of the Wednesday Bridge club at luncheon, at Shawnee Country club, Wednesday. Mrs. John E. Galvin, Mrs. William L. Russell and Mrs. O. E. Chenoweth were substitutes for play, which followed the luncheon. Mrs. Mark Kotter was successful among the club and Mrs. Russell won among the guests.

The Misses Agnes, Franz and Ruth Stageman, Rochester, N. Y., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Linden-st.

Miss Betty Dugan, 511 W. Market-st, charmingly entertained members of the Zenda Shon club to her home Wednesday. "Bucco" was played, winners in the games being Mrs. Clarence Huffer among the guests and Miss Beulah Fisher among the club members. The consolation fell to Miss Clara DeCurtis.

Supper was served and the club decided to discontinue its meetings during the month of August. The next meeting will be held the second week in September with Miss Beulah Fisher, 650 S. Elizabeth-st. Club members in attendance were the Misses Greynave Cullen, Dorothy Stollenbach, Alice Gonnella, Alvina Cardosi, Clara DeCurtis, Margaret McFadden, Beulah Fisher and Betty Dugan. Guests to enjoy the meeting with members were Miss Leona Bernstein, Miss Renata Cardosi, Miss Margaret Dugan, Mrs. Arnold Schmelsing and Mrs. Clarence Huffer.

Mrs. W. W. Jones, Warren, Ohio, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. A. Nuttz, 217 S. McDonell-st, left Thursday for her home. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith, S. Piercest, entertained at a birthday party for Mrs. Jones, Wednesday evening, in celebration of the event, which comes on Friday. Games and music were enjoyed by the 22 guests in attendance. Refreshments were served before the company dispersed.

The dance planned by the American Legion auxiliary for Friday evening, at McCullough lake park, has been postponed for the second time. The dance will be held instead on August 4.

The fine country home of Mr. and Mrs. John Loyer, in Logan-tp, Auglaize-co, just over the line from Shawnee-tp, in Allen-co, was the scene, Tuesday, of an unusual event, when the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Loyer was celebrated, with a company of eighty-five present.

Featuring the event was the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elsley, of Spencerville R. D.; Mr. and Mrs. William Burchin, of Lima and Mrs. M. L. Zerkel, of the Loyer neighborhood, who celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage in the last year and a half.

Addresses were given by Rev. Eckhardt of Lima, William Rusler of Shawnee-tp and by others. A bountiful dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Matthews Lutheran church of Cridersville. The couple received numerous splendid gifts, in remembrance of the unusual event in their lives. Mrs. Michael Deisich, aged 59, mother of Mrs. Samuel Elsley, who recently celebrated her golden wedding anniversary, was present. It is very unusual that a mother is spared in this life to witness the observance of the 50th anniversary of the marriage of her daughter.

Four of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Loyer, with their families, were present. They are: Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Crites, near the home place; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loyer, of St. Marys; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loyer, of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loyer, residing on the home farm.

Altho having attained the age of 79 years, Mr. Loyer is in good health and active. He was born in Baden, Germany, in 1843 and came to America with his mother, when quite young. They traveled the middle west, traveling by water to Cleveland, thence to Marion and came to Allen-co in 1860. Mr. Loyer has resided 62 years on his present homestead.

Mrs. Loyer, a daughter of Frederick Wisemeyer, enjoys excellent health. Mr. and Mrs. Loyer are admired and respected by all who know them.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Morehead, Atlantic-ave, have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Straub and daughter, Mrs. Ind.

Masons, their families and house guests will enjoy a basket picnic and dance at McCullough lake park, Friday evening. The entertainment is planned by El Karan Grotto.

Miss Helen Eversole, Jefferson, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Eversole, 617 N. Collett-st.

Mrs. Orin Turney, 500 Albert-st, will entertain the Annapolis club at her home, next Wednesday evening.

The Missionary Society of Epworth M. E. church will meet Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. O. Harpster, 723 Albert-st.

Mrs. W. W. Jones, Warren, Ohio, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. A. Nuttz, 217 S. McDonell-st, left Thursday for her home. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith, S. ## SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:—
All coming to you for a little advice, hoping you can help me. I am 19 and am going with a young man two years my senior. I think lots of him and I am sure he thinks a great deal of me. Somehow, I can't feel just exactly right when walking down street with him, for he is two inches shorter than I am. He is a splendid young man and treats me wonderful. Do you think I should give him up for this reason only?

Or, do you think it looks all right for a girl to be taller than her friend? I am five foot, eight inches. He is five foot six.

It is proper to speak to a young man when a girl speaks often when he speaks first, altho she has never met him formally?

If the looks of the man means so much to you, by all means, give him up. I would advise, for his benefit, that you do give him up. Any woman who becomes dissatisfied just because of two small inches in height, is not worthy of a splendid young man, such as you say he is. Yield him to some more appreciative young woman and prevent his life being filled with trifles and nagging, which would likely result if you should marry him.

I do not see why the man should speak to you, never having met you. I would try to avoid him and prevent him speaking.

Dear Miss Smart:—
I am a young man with small means, but always try to be kind, broad-minded and liberal with girls and often make friends with some very prominent girls. But as soon as I acknowledge I can not afford an automobile or the things most girls hold as the greatest of pleasures, they usually grow very indignant. Do you think I am doing right by being sincere, or is it best to be a fool and lie? It seems the latter takes the best now-a-days. But I feel I'd rather have the common things with sincerity and safety, than great luxuries in fear. What would you advise?

BAX.
I am pleased to read such a sensible letter, from so sensible a young man. I was glad you inserted that word "with safety" and "lack of fear."

I was going to tell you that many young men today are doing things they usually grow very indignant to represent to a girl they possessed what they did not. In some instances, young women have caused young men to steal cars to gratify their wish for a drive.

Stick to your own beliefs. You are right. Some day I expect to hear of you as one of Lima's leading business men. You've got the right idea. Don't deviate from the right path. You should affiliate with some church organization, where you will be introduced to sensible young women and you will not have this idea of a good time with worldly things always to battle against.

Many sensible young women there are who do not demand these things and will appreciate you for what you really are and not for what you possess.

Mrs. Orin Turney, 500 Albert-st, will entertain the Annapolis club at her home, next Wednesday evening.

The Missionary Society of Epworth M. E. church will meet Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. O. Harpster, 723 Albert-st.

WHOM SHALL MOLLY MARRY? Pistol Is Mightier Than Check Book, Don Proves

By ZOE BECKLEY

The four stood as the carved of marble—Don, theatrically impressive, his hand significantly in his pocket, his manner still and masterful; Ben Wheeler in momentary check, held by a sensible fear of the thing in Don's pocket and the madness in Don's mind; Molly terrified; Billy alert for a spring.

"Now you're sensible, Wheeler," Don nodded calmly. "If you keep still you'll only get a good talking to. If you move—and spoil my speech—I'll let fly."

An animal growl rose in Wheeler's throat. His chest and shoulders swelled with gathering attack. Molly seized his arm, held it tight.

"Don't move, Ben!" she entreated. "And Don, oh, my dear, won't you stop this childishness?"

"Wheeler, listen closely," Don began. "I like dogs so I won't insult them by calling you one. Only a beast of the lowest type fights as you do. To win you didn't hesitate to crush poor, foolish Lella or me. Now you're crushing Billy there—"

"I'll take care of that, Don," broke in Billy, hoping to divert him. "You think because you make butcher knives you're a strong man," Don went on.

"Why, your only strength is your pocket—and just now that isn't as good as what I've got in mine!"

"Molly!" snapped Wheeler, "let go of me or I'll have to—"

"Yes, let go of him, Molly," smiled Don mockingly. "he realizes how vile he is and wants to die. It's the one decent feeling—"

Wheeler's free hand closed over Molly's wrist and tore her hold from his arm.

"Now, you worm!" He made a pantherish move toward Don.

A cry broke from Molly and Billy Barton. Don neither moved nor spoke, but his intention was clearer than shouting. He was waiting till Ben was almost on him before pulling the trigger—as fearless as only madness can make one, eager to be moved to shoot.

Even Wheeler stopped. To pull a trigger on one's self when there is all the reason in the world to want to live.

"Ah, a little cooler in your armor?" Don mocked. "Waving a check book isn't always effective, eh, Wheeler? Even a successful hardware merchant isn't proof against lead bullets, eh?"

"Oh, Don—oh, Don, for my sake," pleaded Molly, stop!

Wheeler and get hanged for it. Not that I give a damn what happens to either of you. But I won't have Molly driven mad blaming herself over the affair. Give me that gun! His hand shot out just as Wheeler, from behind, leaped also upon Don.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Miss Ruth Keating, employee in the city manager's office, reports that a well-dressed woman sitting at a table in a restaurant said, "Please pass the olive oil."

Miss Keating complied. The woman opened the olive oil, applied some oil to her lips and hands, and smiled her thanks to the astonished Miss Keating.

George Leasure, former mayor of Delphos, spends his summers at a cottage at Lakeside.

He avoided a certain rustic bench. For it looked fragile and he weighs 200.

He went out, interested in something he was reading, and sat down on the bench. He says, "My first impression that it was too fragile for me was quite correct."

Joe Martin, telegraph operator at Delphos, was much interested in the strips of bright green artificial grass used to cover the floor of a show window in Lima.

"I'd like to have some for my front yard," he said. "I wouldn't have to mow it. But shucks! I suppose I would have to take it in at night."

Steve Crites, of Elida, former State Senator, found robins were getting his cherries.

So he put up a scare-robin in the tree, fashioned in the style of a scare-crow. "Robins don't scare easily," he observes. "They perched on the scare-robin and scolded me when I climbed the tree to pick some for myself."

STRETCHING SNAKE SCARES SANDUSKY CITIZENS WHO GET GLIMPSE OF REPTILE

SANDUSKY, OHIO.—It may be a copperhead, rattler or even a boa constrictor. Descriptions by a person of reputed sobriety differ. Nevertheless, the appearance of a snake six, eight or possibly ten feet in length—again descriptions vary widely—has thrown Sandusky's south end into an uproar.

An excited neighbor who first saw the reptile disappear under Mrs. Mary Miller's grocery store with what she thought was a young chicken in its mouth, called for help. Motorcycle Policeman Michael responded. With drawn pistol he advanced only to find that his quarry could not be dislodged from its position under the grocery store.

The snake is thought to have escaped from a circus which showed here recently.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence

Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With the idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allanchin, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging, he decided to let his discovery be known about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Green's Public Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense Allanchin with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

RADIO MAY BRING WORLD'S BEST ARTISTS TO DOOR

Radio broadcasting may bring the world's best artists to the homes of fans, no matter where they may be.

This can be brought about by the adoption of a new method of broadcasting concerts and lectures suggested by Peter A. Sensenig, of the Westinghouse broadcasting station in Pittsburgh, Pa.

If his plan is adopted, Sensenig says, radio fans in outlying districts of the country could share the pleasures of those in metropolitan districts where the best talent is more easily available. In fact, his system would permit the radio enthusiast to listen in on the world's best singer or most famous lecturer, whether he be in Paris, London, New York or Shanghai.

Sensenig's plan calls for the centralization of all broadcasting stations throughout the world. By international agreement, three different wave lengths would be allotted. There would be a special class of broadcasting for each wave length, according to size and importance.

From a station where the best singer or lecturer can be obtained, the voice would be sent out to other broadcasting stations not only on the same continent but across the sea. Each broadcasting station would transmit the voice it picks up from the central station, for the benefit of the radio fans in its district, and would also act as a relay station for transmission into more distant territory.

Radio is spreading so fast in European countries that there is a possibility of seeing this system inaugurated within a few years.

Commercial radiophone messages are already being flashed across the ocean to various points in Europe. Trans-Atlantic broadcasting is only the next step.

By PAUL F. GODLEY

America's Foremost Radio Authority

One of the discouraging things about radio code practice is the tendency toward irregularity of operation of the average high-pitched buzzer.

Such tone irregularities detract the attention of the beginner from the characters being transmitted.

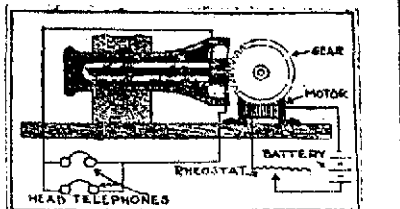

A miniature alternating current generator will overcome this difficulty. It easily can be rigged up from an old magnetic telephone, a toy motor and an iron gear wheel.

The gear should be mounted upon the shaft of the motor so that its teeth revolve very close to, and directly in front of, the pole pieces of the magnetic telephone. For the best results, the gear should be approximately the same thickness as the pole piece of the telephone receiver. If the tone produced in the windings of the receiver is to be a pure one, the gear should be mounted true on the shaft of the motor.

The provision of a rheostat in circuit with the motor and its battery will enable the control of the pitch of the tone.

The action is as follows: When two of the teeth of the gear are opposite the two poles of the telephone receiver, the magnetic circuit is completed, thru the gear, at which time a maximum of magnetic flow exists.

When the gear is revolved, the resistance of the magnetic flux is greatly increased because of the substitution of air in front of the pole pieces of the telephone magnet.

ALTERNATING CURRENT GENERATOR FOR CODE PRACTICE

A great change in the magnetic flow is thus brought about.

This change of magnetic flow produces a pulse of current in the coils of the telephone receiver. Each time a tooth of the gear passes the pole pieces, a similar pulse will be registered in the windings of the receiver. It is thus acting as a generator.

Any magnetic telephone may be used in this way, altho the watch-case type will give less energy than those larger phones used with the standard telephone instruments.

RADIO A FAD IN ENGLAND

Girls and boys throughout England have caught the radio fever from America. The new science has become such a favorite among the youngsters that schools have begun installing sets and conducting courses for them. Here is a group of girls and boys who are taking the radio course in a school at Foxhole, Cornwall. The apparatus was designed, partly built and wholly assembled by one of the older pupils.
